Chalet Pierre Avoi (sleeps 14+2)

Tucked away in the secluded Plan-praz area of Verbier, Chalet Pierre Avoi is a stunning mountain retreat. Laid out over three floors, the chalet sleeps between 14 and 16 guests in seven bedrooms, all with private bathrooms and flat screen TVs. There is also a further bunkroom with shared bathroom.

The interior has been beautifully designed, with modern art works adorning the natural mineral walls and elegant furniture throughout. The chalet's heart is its double-height living area complete with stone fireplace and floor-to-ceiling windows, which open up to a huge south and south-west facing decked terrace.

Some will find the sanctuary of the outdoor hot tube the perfect place to relax after a long day on the slopes, taking in the jaw-dropping views of Combins and the Mont Blanc massif, whilst others may opt for a sauna or massage in the chalet's treatment room. There is also a second spacious sitting room downstairs, ideal for children with its large screen, Wii, Xbox and selection of games and toys.

The bustling resort centre and the main lift stations of Medran and Savoliers are a mere five-minute chauffeured drive away and this chalet comes with a 24 hours a day driving service.
